

International Agency for Research on Cancer

EurocanPlatform Workshop: Two-way translational cancer research: an opportunity for cancer control

16-17 October 2012

IARC, Lyon, France
Princess Takamatsu Hall, ground floor

FINAL AGENDA

Tuesday, 16 October

13.45-14.00	Welcome and introductions	Christopher Wild, Co-Chair
14.00-14.30	Overview of the EurocanPlatform project: planning for Comprehensive Cancer Centres in Europe	Ulrik Ringborg
14.30-15.00	Review of the Working Paper: Two-way translational cancer research – an opportunity for cancer control	Christopher Wild
15.00-15.30	General discussion – identifying the key questions
15.30-16.00	Tea break and group photograph
16.00-17.00	Laboratory science in molecular epidemiology:
16.00-16.20	i. Genomics	Tatsuhiko Shibata
16.20-16.40	ii. Transcriptomics	Martyn Smith
16.40-17.00	iii. Epigenetics	Zdenko Herceg
17.00-17.20	iv. Metabolomics	Elaine Holmes
17.20-18.00	Review of the Working Paper based on Day One discussion	All participants. Nathaniel Rothman + Neli Ulrich as Facilitators
18.00	Close of session
19.45	Dinner in a Lyon restaurant

Wednesday, 17 October

9.00-9.30	Review of Day One: Molecular cancer epidemiology – opportunities and pitfalls	John Groopman, Co-Chair
9.30-10.30	Research infrastructure
9.30-10.00	i. Cohorts	Paolo Vineis
10.00-10.30	ii. Biobanks	Joakim Dillner
10.30-11.00	Coffee break
11.00-12.30	Review of the Working Paper text: what's missing, what needs changing?	All participants. John McLaughlin and Jørgen Olsen as Facilitators
12.30-12.45	Summary and next steps	Christopher Wild
12.45	Close of meeting – lunch available	